What I learned about myself last semester

- People need to be nice; they fight a lot.
- I like to be a leader.
- I enjoy more subjects now than I did before.
- I like social studies.
- I'm a good student.
- Funny.
- We should take more care of our school and the bathrooms.
- I am a good soccer defender in p.e.
- I know a bit more than I thought I knew.

Our vision: An exceptional district in which to learn, work, and live.

KELLER ISD
Intentionally  Exceptional

- I like spaghetti.
- I should have been in accelerated math.
- We should be more aware of what we say.
- Can't be funny.
- That lockers are easy to open.
- What I can improve.
- I like Science.
- I'm actually good with social things like making friends.
- That other people are just as crazy about books as me.
- To keep my talks in a bubble.
- That I did not think that looking for my classrooms would be so hard to look for, but now it is very easy.
- To not care what others think about me.
- That I do not have to oppress my personality when with teachers just to be a good student.
- Don't give up so easily.
- I found out how to open a locker.
- Science became my favorite hobby to do at home.
- I learned that saying one word to someone affects their feelings.
- I found out how much I like Science.
- I got better at math.
- We are smarter than we think.
- I'm good at art class.
- I learned that I'm good at football.
- Like order.
- Student garden, language, bring others to school.
- I thought class would not be fun, but it is!
- Talking more with my peers.
- I can solve hard things.
- I can stand up against problems that I see.
- I love my teachers.
- I focus better when I have more time.
- To always be determined to do something even when it's hard.
- To open up to people more.
- I am good enough to make a major's team.
- I am comfortable in purple house.
- I discovered new books that I love.
- That I'm very responsible.
- I think I'll do well in middle school from BCI.
- I love Percy Jackson.
- I learned to always be myself no matter what.
- To never give up.
- I'm a bit more "be yourself".

· Science is my favorite subject
